–Let’s talk about

Crime

The Pitmans’ Perspective on: Crime

“Discretion in a speech is often more important than eloquence.”

What we do: Criminal proceedings including white collar crime, corporate manslaughter, corporate criminal proceedings and personal criminal cases of all types.

Who we act for: Companies, company directors and private individuals. We act for clients facing all forms of serious personal criminal offences and also more minor offences, such as road traffic cases. We have experience in assisting clients faced with criminal freezing orders, search and seizure orders.

Our expertise: We are committed to helping clients in what can very often be extremely difficult and challenging personal circumstances. When we represent clients in high profile cases, we try to ensure that client names are kept out of the media. Where media attention is sometimes unavoidable, we do all we can to make certain any coverage remains as benign as possible.

Our service: When time is of the essence, we have the resources to provide immediate and urgent help. We provide a 24 hour telephone service and do everything we can to offer emergency assistance. This may mean teaming up with local duty solicitors for more routine police appointments. We have excellent working relationships with leading criminal barristers, forensic accountants and scientists.

How we are different: We offer the highest level of legal service and personal support. Our criminal service is provided at the same costs that we apply for commercial work. We do not have a Legal Aid franchise. Where clients are eligible for Legal Aid we will introduce them to appropriate law firms.
