Dispute Resolution

The Pitmans’ Perspective on:
Dispute Resolution

“In war there is no prize for runner up.”

What we do:

Disputes we handle include: banking and finance; commercial agents; company law, board room and shareholder disputes; construction and engineering; contract disputes; financial services; fraud; information technology; insolvency; insurance; intellectual property; pensions; professional liability; property; landlord and tenant; sale of goods and international trade.

Who we act for:

Our clients range from major international companies and PLCs, to SMEs and individuals.

Our expertise:

We have a large team of knowledgeable and highly experienced lawyers who work in a variety of business and industry sectors. Our approach emphasises the need for a practical understanding of our clients’ business issues. This is combined with intelligent and no-nonsense advice and vast experience in negotiation. We identify the critical issues and support our clients in making their strategic decisions.

Our service:

Disputes can be stressful, time consuming and damaging to your business. For this reason, we offer clear and concise advice. This starts with an early assessment of the case with careful consideration of the strategy and any alternatives to a formal procedure, including alternative dispute resolution (ADR). Where litigation is necessary, we have the resource and skills to represent our clients very effectively. We are not afraid to take incisive action where required. This might include applying for injunctive relief. We work in all divisions of the High Court, the County Court and in domestic and international arbitration proceedings.

How we are different:

We have a reputation for being pragmatic and cost-effective, as well as responsive and empathetic. In many cases, our flexible and supportive fee structures result in cost-neutral dispute management for our clients. We always work tirelessly to resolve our clients’ disputes and deliver a successful conclusion.
