–Let’s talk about

Environment

The Pitmans’ Perspective on: Environment

“A business that ignores compliance does so at its peril.”

What we do: Our specialist areas of expertise include environmental due diligence; environmental warranties and indemnities; the contaminated land regime; waste management licensing and exemptions – applications, prosecutions; asbestos – risk assessment and management; hazardous substances; flooding; health and safety – risk assessment, prosecutions; and nuisance.

Who we act for: Companies and investors, banks and financial institutions, housebuilders and property developers, retailers, quarry and waste operators.

Our expertise: Clients commend the leader of our team, Sue Crowther, for her interpersonal and negotiating skills and being “incredibly easy to deal with.”

Our service: A business that ignores this fast-evolving area of law does so at its peril. The costs of non-compliance may be substantial. We have the experience and advice to avoid this.

How we are different: As a team, we work closely with the Firm’s Corporate and Real Estate teams providing contentious and non-contentious advice to clients on a wide range of environmental issues.
